"DID MY DUTY," SAYS VON PAPEN, RECALLED, AS HE STARTS HOMEWARD

CENTRAL POSTAL STATION WILL BE NOW ESTABLISHED

Postmaster Young Announces Plans for Using Present Federal Property

IRWIN SITE CHOICE TO GIVE MORE EFFICIENCY

Boxes and Carriers From the Bethel Street Building to Serve Big Section

Honolulu is going to have two downtown postoffices instead of one. Though the main administration offices of the postal department will go to the new federal building on the Irwin site, the present postoffice on Bethel and Merchant streets will not be abandoned but will be transformed into a central station and will serve the congested business district of Honolulu with a special system of boxes, clerks and carriers.

Postmaster William F. Young made this definite announcement today, confirming a plan which was known to a few people at the time Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Byron R. Newton came to Honolulu to investigate the federal sites offered Uncle Sam. At that time Mr. Newton, Mr. Young, Collector Franklin and others talked over the plan for retaining the present postoffice but the matter was kept in confidence until the new federal site should be selected.

Will Serve Business Section.

"The businessmen of Honolulu and the people in the district west of Bethel and Nuuanu streets need not worry about being inconvenienced by the construction of the federal building on the Irwin site," said Postmaster Young this morning. "The government is going to keep this building right here. The property is Uncle Sam's and there will be developed here a central station to facilitate the handling of mail in this part of the city and to the west."

People who wish to keep their boxes here may do so. Carriers will radiate from this central station with mail. It will give the postoffice department an opportunity to add greater efficiency to the service, and nobody who wishes to be served from here will have to go to the federal building for mail."

Postmaster Young and Postoffice Inspector Thomas J. Flavin, who also discussed the situation, are both convinced that the central station plan will fully answer whatever criticism there is of moving the main postoffice to the federal building. They point out mainland cities where the plan is working well.

Postmaster Young and Inspector Flavin both were strongly in favor of the Irwin site and the arguments used by the postmaster when his advice was asked undoubtedly were a strong factor in settling the treasury department firmly in favor of the Irwin site. Former Governor Fyfe is given much credit for bringing to a successful consummation the negotiations between the federal government and the owners of the Irwin site.

The division of ownership in the Irwin site made the negotiations difficult and involved. Of the total area of about 124,000 square feet in the Irwin site, the ownership is as follows:

William G. Irwin estate, about 110,000 square feet.

Rawlins estate, about 5,000 square feet.

Opera House property, about $300 square feet, divided as follows:

One-quarter owned by Irwin estate. Remaining three quarters originally in estate of Claus Spreckels, bequeathed to his children as follows: To John D. Spreckels, one-half. To Rudolph, Claus A. and Emma Spreckels Peris, the remaining quarter.

The land to be transferred to the government is the entire block on which the opera house stands, bounded by Union Square (more generally known as Palace Square or Capitol Square), Richards street, Queen street and Millani street. Millani street runs between the Opera House and the Judiciary building.

It is believed that the federal government will agree to an improvement plan along the lines of the Mulford

PARTLY PARALYZED PORTUGUESE CANNOT TELL HIS OWN NAME

Found on Liliha street last night after he had fallen unconscious, an unknown Portuguese man was taken to the police emergency hospital and is being treated by Dr. Ayer. The man appears to be paralyzed and cannot give his name or address, or the name of any relatives. There were no papers in his clothing to identify him. An effort is being made today to locate relatives or friends.

VAUGHAN CLAIMS M'CARN INSISTED HE BE REMOVED

"He Cabled Washington and Answer Was His Removal," Says New District Attorney

FALSE CHARGES MADE NEW OFFICIAL SAYS

New Holder of Office Wants to Do His Work Without Any "Grand Stand Plays"

Reports which have been widely commented upon lately in federal court circles and in the legal fraternity to the effect that Former District Attorney Jeff McCarn and Acting District Attorney Horace W. Vaughan have been at loggerheads practically ever since the latter arrived in Honolulu, were given further confirmation today when Mr. Vaughan admitted what practically is a "breach in relations" between himself and the Tennesseean.

"I have been informed that Mr. McCarn cabled to Washington, D. C., to have me removed, and the answer was his own dismissal," Mr. Vaughan said this morning, shortly after he had been sworn in as acting district attorney.

Mr. Vaughan added that Mr. McCarn had imported this information to a certain Honolulu, and that the news promptly had been carried back to Mr. Vaughan.

"And I know that it is true," Mr. Vaughan declared to a representative of the Star-Bulletin.

"Why did he request your removal?" Mr. Vaughan was asked.

"False Charges," Alleged.

"I don't know," the district attorney answered. "But I do know that he has been manufacturing false charges against me and trying to make something out of nothing. I have done nothing here to cause my removal, and Mr. McCarn knows that."

"I want to go along with the duties of my office without any grandstand plays."

In a statement to the Star-Bulletin, Mr. McCarn said that he believed Mr. Vaughan was thoroughly capable to handle the affairs of the office of the district attorney. He also denied that he was after Judge Sanford B. Dole's former position on the local federal bench.

Judge Dole says that he believes there was no foundation to the report that Mr. McCarn was after a federal bench job.

The former district attorney intends to leave for the mainland in the steamer Great Northern next Sunday, unless private business in Honolulu detains him. He plans to go direct to his former home in Nashville, Tennessee, and later to Washington, D. C.

Up to press time today, Judge Dole had received no information from Washington as to whether he is to be appointed to take his place.

"I guess we will have to wait until the president finished his honeymoon before we hear anything further," he smiled. "I am not especially optimistic in the matter. I do not know what is in the minds of the officials in Washington. I am not applying for the position in any sense. If they ask me to serve another term, I shall do so, if not, all right."

NO BORROWING NECESSARY FOR NEW CITY HALL

"If the territory provides the site, as Governor Pinkham intends, there is no reason why Honolulu should not have a city hall inside of three years," said Supervisor Logan, chairman of the finance committee, this morning.

"At the beginning of the present term I told Mayor Lane privately that we ought to be able to build a city hall to cost $100,000 the second year, that is 1916, without incurring any debt for it. My idea was to take the money out of the permanent improvement fund, which would still leave an equal amount, probably, for other works such as the belt road."

"Since then the situation has been changed, owing to the requirements of the frontage tax policy, the city and county's share of district improvements already under way making a formidable amount. This year's program of public improvements, in addition to large expenditures in rebuilding bridges and work on the belt road, comprised placing the fire department in an up-to-date position, doubling the electric light station capacity, starting the emergency hospital, various office renovations and the purchase of much new equipment for the road, garbage and other departments. Hence the setting aside of anything for a building fund was impossible.

Rent Would Pay Interest.
"At present the municipality is paying $484 a month for rent of offices."

HONOLULU WILL SEE THIS MAN BUT ONCE EVERY THREE YEARS

Paul Super, whose splendid work for the Y. M. C. A. in Honolulu, has earned for him a big promotion.

SUPER LEAVES HONOLULU FOR GENERAL WORK

Sails Feb. 23, Will Make Home in New Jersey; to Be Traveling Secretary

Paul Super, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will leave Honolulu on February 23 on the Wilhelmina for San Francisco, where he will begin his work as traveling secretary for the international committee of the association. Mr. Super will take his family with him, and has rejected to make his home in Montclair, N. J.

Mr. Super is one of the few general secretaries to be selected to this position in the last few years, and the fact that C. K. Ober travelled 10,000 miles to urge the local secretary to join the international force speaks well for the work that has been accomplished in Honolulu by the popular head of the local association.

In a letter received from R. C. Morse, consulting general secretary of the international committee, the noted Y. M. C. A. official welcomes Mr. Super to the staff, and states that the association is pleased to secure a man with such a record for efficiency. Mr. Morse is one of the "big men" in the association.

The plan as outlined will take Mr. Super to the coast, where he will begin his work of conducting a recruiting campaign for association secretaries in Stanford University and the University of California. He will also take up the question of placing fellowship secretaries in the associations in San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. He will then visit southern California, where he will spend some time in the colleges of the south recruiting men for association work.

To Boston in April.
After the California campaign has been completed Mr. Super will make a trip to many of the southern associations and southern colleges. He will later go to Boston, where he will attend the Y. M. C. A. conference in that city in April. Mr. Super states that he will visit Honolulu at least every three years, and will perhaps make a tour of the associations in the Orient.

Although the plans have not been outlined in detail it is expected that Mr. Super will retain the position of general secretary of the local association for 1916, and he will also retain his interest in the work that is proposed for next year, although much of his time will be spent in travel. The sanction of the local board of trustees to the change will be given soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Super have made a host of friends during their residence in this city, and the members and friends of the association will regret to see the "General," as he is called by many of his friends, leave Honolulu. Mr. Super has been active in bringing the local Y. M. C. A. to the front rank among the associations of the world.

GRONNA RENEWS 'DRY' CAMPAIGN FOR TERRITORY

North Dakota Senator Reintroduces Bill on Second Day of Congress Session

SUPERINTENDENT FORBES MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION

Is Hustling for Bills and Has Received Assurances of Support

By C. S. ALBERT.

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—Senator Gronna of North Dakota has again launched the fight for prohibition in Hawaii. He obtained an early start by introducing on the second day of Congress his former bill providing absolute prohibition for the Territory. He proposes to get right behind this measure and hustle it along, with the expectation that action can be secured at this session.

In any event Senator Gronna has two entire years in which to work for the passage of his bill. If he fails this winter he will have another opportunity during the short session, a year hence. He expects the assistance of the temperance forces.

Other legislation for Hawaii has been started through the mill. Delegate Kalaniano'ole offered bills on the opening day and Senator Warren presented them to the senate on the following afternoon. Charles H. Forbes, superintendent of public works, is here on the spot and already has begun pushing these measures along. He is a "worker from away back." He has conferred with thirty or forty members of Congress and feels certain they will do more for Hawaii this winter than in the past. He also has arranged for committee hearings and hopes to obtain favorable reports on some of the bills before the Christmas holidays roll around.

Forbes Makes Good Impression.
It seems absolutely certain that Mr. Forbes will not permit any grass to grow under his feet, even when the warm weather comes along, and definite results may be expected from his activities. He is going to work systematically, and in earnest. That is the only method by which anything can be accomplished with Congress.

Among the bills already laid before Congress are:
To establish a fish-cultural and biological station in the Territory of Hawaii.
For the construction of a breakwater at Nawiliwili harbor, Island of Kauai.

To establish a national park at Kilauea in the Territory of Hawaii.
To authorize and provide for the manufacture, maintenance, distribution and supply of electric light and power within the Lihue district and the Kohala district, county of Kauai.

To ratify, approve and confirm an act duly enacted by the legislature of the Territory of Hawaii relating to the granting of a franchise for the purpose of manufacturing and supplying gas in the district of South Hilo, county of Hawaii.

XMAS CHEER IS NOTE SOUNDED AT CLUB LUNCHEON

Nobody cares what the hobo eats, Nobody cares where the hobo sleeps, Nobody cares where he gets his clothes

Nobody cares where the hobo goes, How would you like to be a hobo? —Christmas carol sung by C. H. Dickey at Ad Club luncheon.

Christmas spirit prevailed at the Ad Club luncheon today at the Alexander Young hotel. President Wallace H. Farrington called upon many members for Christmas songs and Christmas toasts, and Neil Slattery had arranged a Christmas tree and the necessary decorations for the occasion.

Judge S. B. Dole struck the keynote of the Christmas gathering when he responded to a request for a toast and stated: "To fraternity and brotherhood, including the visitor and the resident." J. M. Riggs, chairman of the Christmas committee, showed the workings of the Ad Club Christmas spirit when he announced that more than 800 Christmas dinners had been provided for the poor of the city by members of the Ad Club.

Mr. Riggs stated that the Ad Club committee are indebted to many of the ladies who have worked to make the Christmas dinners for the poor a success. Through the efforts of the ladies the baskets have been arranged and will be delivered, a list having

TERRITORIAL SENATOR WHO IS IN LEAD NOW FOR FEDERAL OFFICE

Senator James L. Coke of Honolulu.

JAMES L. COKE MAY BE NAMED U. S. ATTORNEY

Cablegram From Washington Indicates He is Strong Probability

Developments are beginning to come in the appointment of a United States district attorney to succeed Jeff McCarn, resigned and dismissed.

The Star-Bulletin received from its Washington correspondent today the following brief but significant cablegram:

"Looks like James L. Coke for district attorney."

Senator Coke is now on the mainland but his friends here say that he would accept the position if offered him, though he is not making an active fight for it against avowed candidates. When the Wilson administration took office, Senator Coke was strongly backed here to succeed the then district attorney, Robert W. Breckons, whose retirement was certain because he is a Republican. Coke made no fight for the position and Jeff McCarn of Tennessee was appointed.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

The following cablegram from official German sources was received this morning:

"German Army Headquarters, Dec. 22.—Report of Dec. 21: West of Hultsch a German detachment took an English sapping trench and repulsed a counter attack. The night-time was lively with artillery duels in numerous sections on the west front."

"On the east front Russian soldiers were ejected from Dekahi farm, south and east of Vidsk, close to the German front, which the Russians had taken on the night of December 19-20. Russian reconnoitering detachments were repulsed south of Vygonskoye lake and near Kozhukhova, north-west of Chortovsk."

The following cablegram received early this afternoon tells of today's situation:

"German Headquarters Report, Dec. 22.—Yesterday afternoon the French attacked German positions at Hartmannswillerkopf and at Hirtzstein, north of Wettersheim, and succeeded in taking the top of Hartmannswillerkopf, which has been held since the beginning of April. They also took a small section of the trench of Hillsenfarst. The Germans have already taken back part of the lost position on Hartmannswillerkopf. A French attack near Metzler broke down before the German position. The rest of the west front shows little activity on account of dark weather and heavy snowfall."

CHRISTMAS GIFTS BY THOUSANDS HANDLED BY MAIL CARRIERS

Thousands of Christmas presents from relatives and friends on the mainland were delivered this morning by the postoffice's force of carriers, and by tonight the record-breaking shipment of Christmas mail, 1254 bags, which arrived yesterday on the Wilhelmina, will have been entirely cleaned up.

Tomorrow morning, when the Great Northern arrives, she will bring a sizable amount from San Francisco and Los Angeles, 354 bags, and the Chivo Maru, due Friday morning from San Francisco direct, is expected to have even more, as she is carrying the last mail from the mainland to arrive in Honolulu before Christmas Day.

HOUSE OF COMMONS GRANTS HUGE ARMY INCREASE AFTER ALL-NIGHT DEBATE—BRITISH SAY GERMANS SUFFERED SEVERELY IN FIGHT ON ARMENTIERES FRONT—RUSSIANS ADVANCING IN PERSIA—GERMANS MAY WIN GREECE AND RUMANIA BY GALLIPOLI RESULT

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless]

NEW YORK, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Capt. Franz von Papen, the German military attache of the Washington embassy, recalled on demand by the United States, sailed today on the Dutch liner Noordam. In a brief statement made before the steamer left, the attache, who became persona non grata through his activities said to be connected with the various "war plots" in the United States, declared that he feels no bitterness toward Americans. He says that he is glad of the opportunity to fight in the trenches. The history of the war, he declared, will show that he did his duty.

British Evacuation of Gallipoli May Alienate Greece and Rumania

LONDON, England, Dec. 22.—Despatches from various sources represent the Germans as taking advantage of the British withdrawal from Gallipoli by using the moral effect of the retirement to influence Greece and Rumania to the Teuton cause. The evacuation is being pointed to as an illustration of the weakness of the Allies.

Russia is forestalling these attempts by an invasion of Bulgaria from Varna, where a Slav force landed yesterday after a heavy bombardment.

Col. House Not On Peace Mission

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Dec. 22.—President Wilson said today that the mission of Col. E. M. House in Europe is not connected with peace. Col. House sailed on the liner Noordam for Europe today on a confidential errand for President Wilson, whose adviser and intimate friend he is. The president says that the general object of the mission is to communicate to the American ambassadors matters of confidential importance and to ascertain from them and give to them the attitude of the United States toward certain phases of the international situation which are not communicable by telegraph or letters.

Another Million For British Army

LONDON, England, Dec. 22.—Following an all-night debate last night in the House of Commons, the house granted the increase of a million men in the army asked for by Premier Asquith.

Lieut.-Gen. William B. Robertson, chief of the general staff with Sir John French in France, will be recalled from the French front to become chief of the imperial staff in London. He thus takes the place of Gen. Murray, who is about to receive an important command. The retirement of Sir John French and shift of Gen. Robertson are believed to indicate closer cooperation between the British and the French on the western front.

Say Germans Suffer On West Front

LONDON, England, Dec. 22.—According to British official statements, the Germans have suffered heavily in recent fighting on the western front near Armentieres. The French have captured a considerable portion of the German works at Hartmannswillerkopf.

Russians Driving Into Persia

LONDON, England, Dec. 22.—The Russians have occupied Kum, indicating an important advance into Persia.

SEND JAWBONE FOUND BY DIVER TO WASHINGTON

All Records for Identification Now at National Capital, Says Lieut. Lando

Because all the records of identification of the F-4's crew were returned to the navy department at Washington after they had served their purpose here in identifying what was left of the submarine's dead, it will be necessary to ship to Washington the human jawbone found yesterday in a pile of battery zinc from the craft by a Hawaiian boy diver while he was diving near the Inter-Island drydock.

Superintendent Alec Lyle of the drydock turned over the pathetic fragment to Chief Carpenter Clark of Pearl Harbor today, and Clarke will deliver it to Rear Admiral Clifford J. Boush, commandant at Pearl Harbor.

"The only thing that can be done," said Lieut. Ellis Lando, former aide to Admiral Boush, this morning, "will be to ship the jawbone to Washington, because all F-4 identification records are there, having been sent back after there was no further use for them here. From the records there it may be possible to identify the fragment. There is no means of identification here at present."

The action is reported to be due to depreciation of the securities held by the corporation. It had deposits of $11,000,000, including the savings of 40,000 school children paid to a collector weekly. The bank has 75,000 depositors. There is a possibility that it will resume business.

CONQUEROR OF LIEGE IS DEAD AT HANOVER

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
BERLIN, Germany, Dec. 22.—Gen. von Emmich, who won fame as the commander of the German forces which conquered Liege, Belgium, at the outbreak of the war, is dead at Hanover.
